THREAT TO PANAMA IS TERMINATED

By JACK RUTLEDGE
PANAMA (AP)—The Panama panic involving a wealthy aristocrat, a famous ballerina, a night club owner and a boatload of Cubans desperately trying to make like Fidel Castro seems to have simmered down.

The Cuban invaders surrendered last weekend, ending the immediate threat to President Ernesto de la Guardia's government. The peace team from the Organization of American States announced Sunday night that the threat to Panama was over.

De la Guardia, elected for a four-year term in 1956, is still fairly popular with the people. But some members of his administration are not, and there is discontent and talk of a change.

Talk turned to action several weeks ago when some dissident students visited Cuba and asked for help from some of Castro's veterans.

There were reports that wealthy Roberto Arias, who comes from a family of presidents, was financing some sort of uprising.

Arias' wife is British Dame Margot Fonteyn, one of the most famous ballet dancers west of Moscow. The government raked up a witness who said she took pictures while Arias and some men raised some arms caked in a rowboat at the bottom of the Gulf of Panama.

Arias eluded government forces, and finally took refuge in the Brazilian Embassy. The frustrated government meanwhile arrested Dame Margot and shipped her out of the country.

Then a band of Cubans landed at an unlikely place called the San Blas Peninsula of Panama's tropical Caribbean coast. Inspired with the idea of liberating yet another country after winning their own civil war, these young Cubans took over the headlines and hardly anything else.

Dogged by misfortune, the invaders landed at the wrong place. Three members of the party were drowned in the landing, among them the Panamanians who were supposed to lead them. Cesar Vega, a Cuban night club owner with a record of unsuccessful revolutions (Turn to Page Twelve)

Sisters Accused Of Bomb Scare Express Regret

Two sisters, accused by the FBI of creating a bomb scare aboard the chartered airliner which took some 30 area citizens to Washington, D. C. last Thursday morning, are today free on $1000 bond and awaiting United States District Court action.

The sisters, Mrs. Helen V. Kroemer, 26, 6 Hertz street and Miss Rose Quiggle, 21, of Kinzua, were arrested Saturday and waived preliminary hearings in Bradford. Investigating officers state that both women own property in the area of the proposed Kinzua Dam project and are in sympathy with some anti-dam residents. The flight to Washington, sponsored by the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, was planned to seek quick action and additional funds for speedy construction of the Allegheny Reservoir proposal.

The bomb scare occurred on the Mohawk airliner that was (Turn to Page Twelve)

Cardinal Spellman Spends Busy Birthday

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, 70 years old today, isn't skipping church activities even for the day.

He is marking his birthday by celebrating Mass at the Church of the Holy Ghost in Whitman, Mass., the town where he was born and the church where he served as altar boy.

Tuesday he will be guest of honor at a birthday reception and tea given here by the Ladies of Charity of the New York Catholic Charities.

Cardinal Spellman has been archbishop of New York 20 years.

Third Term Ban Is Criticized by Former President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today the Constitution's ban on a third term sends a president into a second term "with one hand tied behind him."

"It makes no sense to treat a president this way—no matter who he is—Republican or Democrat," the former president told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in one of his rare appearances before Congress.

Truman said the amendment which put the ban into the Constitution in 1951 "is a bad amendment and ought to be repealed." He noted that he alone, among 175 million Americans could be elected for a third term, if he could get the votes.

This is because the amendment specifically exempted the man who was then president—Truman.

The amendment was submitted to the states by the Republic (Turn to Page Twelve)

Diamond Dealer Robbed Of $250,000 in Gems

NEW YORK (AP)—A diamond dealer, Julius Furst, 48, told police he was held up and kidnapped today, then robbed of his briefcase containing $250,000 worth of gems and necklaces. He was wounded before being dumped from a car.

Furst said he was about to enter the West Side Airlines Terminal on 42nd St. between 9th and 10th avenues, when a gunman forced him into an automobile where another man waited.

In a struggle to retain possession of his briefcase, Furst said, a gunman's weapon went off and he was put out of the car. Furst, suffering a shoulder wound, staggered into a lunchroom. Police were called.

Furst said he was en route to Washington, D.C., on business.

Red Envoy Is Forced to Return Home

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—A Soviet military attaché who apparently had tried to escape by leaping from a hospital window was flown out of Rangoon on a Communist plane Sunday.

A screen of 40 hefty guards from the Soviet Embassy roughed up newsmen and prevented them from questioning him.

Hospital sources said the attaché was Col. Mikhail I. Stryguine, who apparently wanted to get political asylum in Burma. The embassy neither confirmed nor denied published reports of his identity.

The slightly built, haggard looking man was brought to the airport in a Soviet Embassy car minutes before a Chinese Communist transport plane took off for Kunming and Peiping. He was hustled aboard with such haste most of his personal baggage was left behind.

A weeping woman identified as his wife, a Soviet nurse and two guards accompanied him.

Hospital sources said Stryguine was brought to the hospital a week ago suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills. It was reported he had tried to commit suicide when told he must return to the Soviet Union. His wife and two Soviet guards sat with him all night, the woman weeping almost continuously.

The next day, upon recovering, Stryguine shouted invectives in English against the Soviet regime and his associates at the embassy. He asked that Burmese officials, particularly the director of military intelligence, Lt. Col. Win, be summoned. Apparently he wanted to ask their protection.

The two Soviets then demanded that he return to the embassy and tried to remove him when he refused. He broke away and threw himself through a first-floor window in what one witness said was "a leap for life."

He was brought back, given a sedative and bundled into a car by the Soviets, who drove off.

Three hours before the plane's departure, members of the Soviet Embassy staff began to arrive at the airport. By plane time 40 of them were on hand. They kept a close watch on the newsmen.

Ten minutes before takeoff time, a car carrying Soviet Ambassador Alexi D. Shirov and the Stryguines drew up. As Stryguine stepped out, a newsmen called out:

"Colonel, have you anything to say to the press?"

Before he could say a word, a wedge of three Soviets rushed the reporter and threw him several feet. Guards shoved and pushed the other newsmen aside and seized the cameras of two photographers.

Looking bewildered, Stryguine was almost lifted from the ground by two Soviets, who rushed him inside the customs room and locked the door. Shortly after he was escorted to the plane, his wife trailing behind.

Damaging Storms Reported Across Parts of Nation

WEATHER

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Severe thunderstorms raked sections of the plains and rain dampened many other parts of the country today in the wake of damaging storms over the weekend.

Tornado winds and funnel clouds were reported in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas during the night and early morning. No injuries were reported.

Hail and heavy rain swept across areas in the storm belt from southeast Nebraska southward into western Oklahoma and across the Texas Panhandle into east central New Mexico. Hail stones reported as big as golf balls pelted Leedey, Okla., as tornado winds lashed the area. The flood waters washed out dams, blocked some roads and stranded scores of motorists.

Earlier Sunday, hail rain and strong winds hit northern Illinois.

Body in River Is Clue to Missing Portland Family

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—The body of a little girl, found bobbing in a Columbia River slough, provided a probable solution today to the baffling mystery of the missing Ken Martin family of Portland.

The body, found Sunday and identified as that of 11-year-old Susan Martin, had been in the water for a considerable time, said Coroner Paul Mylan. It may have been submerged since the Dec. 7 disappearance of Ken Martin, 54, his wife, 48, and their three pretty young daughters—Barbara, 14, Virginia, 13, and Susan.

Police, who have run down scores of clues in the five-month-old case, believe the Martin car plunged off a highway into the Columbia River or one of its tributaries. The body of Susan apparently floated free of the wreckage in the spring current and was washed to a backwater slough near Camas, Wash., a few miles east of this lower Columbia River city.

Dr. E. A. Waterman, the Martin's dentist, examined the body and said he was certain it was that of the missing girl.

The body was clad in red and white striped pedal pushers and a blue quilted coat. Friends and relatives of the Martins said Susan (Turn to Page Twelve)

19 Reported Dead in Accidents in State

By The Associated Press
At least 19 people died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend, 12 of them on the highways.

Five people died in fires at homes and commercial buildings, a boy drowned and another boy was killed when he fell from a tree and was impaled on a picket fence.

The worst highway accident—a head-on collision in Pittsburgh Saturday—took the lives of three 17-year-old boys.

For the second straight year the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce has been selected the most outstanding Jaycee chapter in Pennsylvania. The award, which is the highest honor a Jaycee chapter can receive, was presented to the local delegation during the State Convention in Harrisburg this past weekend.

The Warren chapter received seven other awards signifying excellence in various fields of community activity. In the category of communities of up to 50,000 population, Warren was presented first place trophies for Youth Welfare Activities, Civic and Cultural Improvement projects and Trade Promotion programs. In addition, the chapter won a Sweepstakes award for its Youth Welfare projects. This trophy is presented to the single chapter in the state, regardless of population, which conducted the most outstanding program of Youth Welfare activities in Pennsylvania. The chapter was also presented with a certificate in recognition of its extension of a Jaycee chapter in Sugar Grove last fall.

The highlight of the Awards program, however, came with the presentation of the major awards known as the Henry J. Giessenbier Memorial trophies in honor of the man who founded the Junior Chamber of Commerce. A Giessenbier trophy is annually presented to the most outstanding local chapter in each of four population divisions. The final award—the Giessenbier Sweepstakes Award—is presented to the single chapter which, regardless of population, had the most outstanding record of achievement in the state. For the sixth time in the last seven years, Warren was singled out as the best chapter in Division III which includes all chapters in Pennsylvania communities of from 15,001 to 50,000 population. The local delegation was stunned, however, later on in the program when it was announced that for the third time in the last seven years and for the (Turn to Page Twelve)

White Men Face Charges in Rape Of Negro Girl

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Most of the 2,800 Negro students at Florida A&M University stayed away from their classes today as part of a "passive resistance" move designated to focus national attention to the mass rape of a Negro coed by four white men.

In small groups the students milled about the campus. It was an orderly protest, as was a mass meeting of an estimated 700 students Sunday night.

Student leaders said the strike was part of a week-long protest movement to draw attention to the rape case "so that justice will be done."

Four men were formally charged with rape today by State Atty. W. D. Hopkins. He said they would be held without bail pending referral of the case to the next grand jury which convenes June 1.

There was speculation in the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Record Motor Fund Budget Calls for Increase in Gas Tax and Auto License Fees

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence reportedly is ready to send to the Legislature a record motor fund budget calling for increases in the state gasoline tax and auto license fees.

The budget reportedly calls for expenditure of about 600 million dollars during the two years beginning June 1, most of it for highway construction.

To balance this budget the administration is expected to ask the Legislature to approve 119 million dollars in new taxes and higher license fees.

The increases are expected to follow those recommended recently by Park Martin, highways secretary. Martin suggested that the gasoline tax be hiked from 5 to 6 cents per gallon, that the driver's license fee be boosted from $1 to $3 a year and that the annual passenger car registration fee be increased $5 to $15.

The new taxes, plus $481 million in existing levies and an anticipated $230 million in federal matching funds could increase the total highway outlay in the 1959-61 biennium to some 890 million dollars.

Walter W. Geisley, secretary of administration, said the special fund budget, which includes the motor fund requests would be submitted to the Legislature this week probably on Wednesday.

It also includes money requests for the fish and game commissions, banking department, milk control commission and other state agencies supported by special funds.

Lawrence also is expected to sign sometime this week, perhaps Tuesday, the 150 million dollar Korean bonus. The House last week approved a bond issue and a one-cent cigarette tax to make the payments to veterans of the Korean conflict.

Legislative action on other phases of Lawrence's tax program does not appear likely this week.

Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic majority leader, called for a meeting today with the Republican leadership to see if he could win support for at least a part of the stalled program.

But House GOP leader Rep. Albert Johnson has said there will be no Republican support for any (Turn to Page Twelve)

Manufacturers Light Dispute Comes to End

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Maintenance work was back to normal today at Pittsburgh district operations of Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. following the end of a two-day strike by members of Local 12651, Dist. 50 of the United Mine Workers.

Members of the local voted Sunday 106-72 to accept a one-year contract that provides a five percent wage increase amounting to about $23 a month.

Sir Winston on First Jet Flight to Visit the President

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill flew off to see President Eisenhower today—walking stick in his hand and a boil on his neck.

The trip by British airliner was the 84-year-old statesman's first jet flight. After three days as Eisenhower's guest at the White House, he will visit in New York with another old friend, Bernard Baruch.

"I'm feeling very fine," Churchill told American Ambassador John Hay Whitney, who saw Sir Winston off at the airport.

"I know it's going to be a wonderful trip," said Whitney. "God bless you and speed you until your return."

The boil looked as if it had already burst, but the spot was still red.

Churchill was to have visited the United States in 1958. The trip had to be abandoned, however, when he was taken ill with pneumonia in the south of France.

Traveling with Churchill this time was his bodyguard, Scotland Yard Sgt. Edmond Murray, and his private secretary, Anthony Montagu Brown.

Following his arrival in New York this afternoon, Churchill was to transfer to his host's personal plane, the Columbine III, for the trip to Washington.

In the capital, Churchill, now 84, apparently will spend much of his time in the White House. The only events announced for his calendar are stag dinners at the White House Tuesday and Wednesday, and another at the British Embassy Thursday night.

The old statesman has turned (Turn to Page Twelve)

Little Rock Race Dispute Facing Test

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A three-judge federal court today began a hearing on constitutionality of the state law which the governor used to close Little Rock's four public high schools against integration.

Also under legal attack were two related acts which have permitted the transfer of funds that otherwise would have gone to the Little Rock schools for the now-displaced pupils.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People contend that the prime law, Act 4 of 1958, is an "evasive scheme" employed to block court-ordered integration.

The school-closing law was upheld last week by the Arkansas Supreme Court in a 4-3 decision. Attorneys for the state argued the law merely extended the "police powers" of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and was invoked to prevent violence he felt would come with integration.

Today's hearing is an extension of the original Little Rock school integration suit, filed by the NAACP in 1956. It challenged as too slow the Little Rock board's voluntary plan for gradual integration.

The plan was upheld by U.S. District Court and the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. It called for integration of grades 10-12 in 1957 and gradual integration of other grades.

Faubus surrounded Central High School with National Guard troops in September 1957, to prevent the entrance of nine Negroes. He claimed the action was necessary (Turn to Page Twelve)

Says Steelworkers Now at Top Rung As Wage Earners

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—"Steelworkers are at the top rung of the wages and benefits ladder in industrial America," Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said today.

Blough told stockholders at the annual meeting that the steel industry's negotiating team in contract talks starting Tuesday will be conscious of these statistics:

"By January, 1959, the steelworker earned about 84 cents more per hour than the average wage earner in all manufacturing, 68 cents more per hour than the average wage earner in the durable goods industries and 38 cents more per hour than the autoworker—a fellow who used to be ahead of him by nine cents."

The industry team at the management conference will be headed by R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president—personal services, U.S. Steel Corp. Blough is Cooper's boss.

Queen Finds Future King a Little Pest at Polo Contest

LONDON (AP)—A boy of 10 can be an awful pest even if he happens to be the future king of England.

His mother can also get annoyed at his behavior even if she happens to be the Queen of England. This was demonstrated Sunday at a polo game between Ascot and Windsor Park, led by Prince Charles' father, Prince Philip.

Queen Elizabeth II, wearing a green raincoat, scarf and low heeled shoes, drove to the game from Windsor Castle. Accompanied by Charles and his 8-year-old sister, Anne, she went to a canopy-roofed canopy because it was raining.

The roof sagged from the weight of pools of water on either side of the center pole. Suddenly Charles punched the canvas, causing water to splash on his mother's stockings. Mother frowned. Charles repeated the maneuver against the other bulge.

As 4,000 spectators watched, the Queen's high girlish voice was heard saying: "Charles! Sit down!" Charles sat down. Philip's team won, 4 goals to 3 1/2.

$5,000,000 Worth of IOU'S Going on the Auction Block

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five billion dollars worth of government IOUs go on the auction block during the next four days.

It's significant that this is the highest total on record for one week. It points up the Treasury's difficulties in managing the biggest national debt in history, 286 billion dollars.

Most government securities sell at fixed prices. But because of unsettled market conditions, debt managers have held more and more auctions in recent months, permitting investors themselves to determine the price and interest rate.

Under the auctions, the high bid gets them. Then the securities mature, the government will pay them off at face value. The lenders will collect what amounts to interest in the difference between the purchase price and the cash-in price.

Two auctions will be held Tuesday. These involve one billion dollars of bills maturing in 91 days and 400 million dollars of bills which fall due in 182 days. The proceeds give the Treasury funds to pay off maturing bills.

On Wednesday, the Treasury will auction two billion dollars of 340 day bills. And on Thursday there will be an auction of 1 1/2 billion dollars of 221-day tax anticipation bills.

State Hospital Open House Attracts Numerous Visitors

Inclement weather failed to dampen the spirits of hundreds of visitors who took advantage of Open House Day, Saturday, to go through the many areas of Warren State Hospital. It was a busy afternoon at the big hospital as dozens of nurses, Psychiatric Technicians and attendants guided the big throng through wards and buildings.

Relationship between community and hospital was stressed this year, with many of the hospital's facilities illustrated in displays along main halls and corridors: play therapy, psychotherapy, orientation of new attendants, psychiatric technical training, affiliated nurses' training, training for supervisors, medical staff conferences, pathological conferences, arrival and return home, Volunteers (a therapeutic community force), industrial and occupational therapy (occupation aids recovery), recreational therapy, insulin therapy and shock therapy, medication, individual psychological testing and psychotherapy, dental surgery, complete physical examination, chemical research, brain wave study, X-ray, scientific correlations, statistical analysis, team conferences (psychological, psychiatric and social work), Psychiatric Technicians.

Emphasis also was placed on the administrative, medical and Social Service departments with a slogan for the latter "Do You Like to Work With People," this concerning careers in Social Service. Posters dwelling on "Mental Illness Can Be Cured" attracted the attention of many. Also, there were interesting posters on daily patient care and nursing service as well as religious services.

In South Center, the visitors found a large display from the patients' art classes under direction of Dr. Sami Daghani, and in Ward 2-21 a truly remarkable display of patients' handicraft.

In the Auditorium, the Patients' Mixed Chorus and Patients' Orchestra provided vocal and instrumental music. The Hospital-Community theme was carried out with posters from various County Mental Health Associations, the Golden Age Society, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Each guest received, in addition to "The Challenge," literature at the large booth set up by the Psychiatric Technicians, and a special booklet published for Open House Day.

Doctors' wives handled registration in the main corridor of Center Building and tours started from the Auditorium.

"Hewing" Program Under Way

Matching the sentiment expressed in the billboards, local Kiwanians engage in a project designed to beautify this corner opposite the Library theatre building. "Man! it's Spring" isn't a question of sitting in a convertible as far as the workers pictured are concerned—but the other sign that reads "the mark of real hewing" satisfaction aptly expresses the Kiwanis program. From what has been a mud-hole, the organization hopes to "hew" out of the dirt an attractive corner complete with bushes and greenery.—Photo by Stoke.

Social Security Is Embarked Upon Sampling Plan

The Jamestown Social Security Office embarked on a 2-month work sampling program which began May 1, 1959. Work sampling is a relatively new technique for obtaining statistics on work productivity and is not as expensive or complex as the more common time and motion studies, explained Howard H. Gift, District Manager.

The immediate purpose of the work sampling project is to obtain information for evaluating district office staffing needs and for constructing a budget for the field staff.

The Jamestown office has also been chosen to serve as a standard office for purposes of the work sampling study. The records of "standard" office operations are highlighted during the sampling period. They serve as a yard-stick in determining the time and effort necessary to do the full quality job that the public has a right to expect.

Gift explained that the fundamental distinction between work sampling and the usual methods of compiling productivity data is that in work sampling activities are recorded at random instants of time throughout the day rather than over an extended period of time. The activity data is recorded on mark sense cards and the summarization of data is compiled by central office machines. More data can thus be obtained with less effort than was ever possible before.

This work sampling is being conducted by the entire field organization of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and is possibly the broadest application of this time study method yet attempted in the United States.

"Chicken Duel" Blamed For Deaths of Three

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Police were checking reports today that a "chicken duel" led to the traffic deaths of three Pittsburgh teenagers on the Ohio River Boulevard.

The three youths were killed in a head-on auto crash Saturday night. Three others, including two girls, were seriously injured.

A "chicken duel" was defined by police as two cars being driven at each other at high speed and the first driver to turn out of the way is considered afraid or "chicken."

Killed in the crash were Roger Holliger, driver of one car; Larry Honbeck, 17, a passenger in Holliger's car; and Duane Allen, 17, operator of the other car.

Riding with Allen were Rosaly Matczak, 15, her brother, Gerald, 17, and Donna Ban, 15. All were hospitalized.

The Jacoby transfer bid and the Texas transfer are the same in response to an opening two-no-trump. In other words, responses at the three level are normal and four level responses are transfer bids. Hence, North's four heart bid demanded that South go to four spades.

With South as declarer West was end played from the opening lead. He opened the four of clubs. Dummy played the nine, East the jack and South won with the ace.

The ace and another spade put West in again. He cashed his remaining high trump and shifted to the deuce of hearts.

South took three heart tricks discarding a diamond from dummy, ruffed the last heart and led dummy's last diamond. He played his ten spot and West was in the lead again.

He had three tricks but that was as far as he could go. A diamond lead would be ruffed and set up South's king for a club discard from dummy and a club lead would give dummy's ten a trick.

Retirement of Mrs. Luce Meets Mixed Reactions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce's decision Friday to quit as ambassador to Brazil was welcomed by some senators as a wise one under the circumstances. Others expressed regret.

There was no immediate comment by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) whose criticisms and attitude were cited by Mrs. Luce as the major reason for her decision. At Morse's office, aides said he was believed to be somewhere in the Capitol but that they could not locate him.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) told reporters he thinks Mrs. Luce "showed good judgment in taking her husband's advice" to resign. Church, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he did not believe Mrs. Luce could have been effective in Brazil.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California, acting Senate Republican leader, said "the resignation is understandable and the events leading to it are regrettable."

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said the resignation was not surprising in view of the events of the last few days.

"I think perhaps that's the greatest service she could have done for the country at the present," McNamara said.

Salk Confident Vaccine Will Control Polio

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the polio vaccine, said last week his studies of results in the first three years of vaccine use indicated that paralytic polio may be controlled by the appropriate use of a killed-virus vaccine.

Salk's vaccine, a killed-virus type, was officially recognized as safe and effective when it was made available for public use in 1955. There has been some subsequent scientific controversy over whether this type of vaccine would have permanent effect against the disease.

Dr. Salk indirectly took note of this today in a report he presented before England's Royal Society of Health.

"Contrary to the expectation of some, the duration of immunity produced by a killed-virus vaccine may, in fact, be much more prolonged than anticipated even by those who have been among the more optimistic," the report said.

The text of Dr. Salk's remarks, delivered at Harrogate, England, was made public here by the University of Pittsburgh.

PLOT IS FAMILIAR

We may be accused of undue levity or of supercilious ignorance, but there's something about this "invasion" of Panama that reminds us of the 19th century opera bouffe conflicts in Latin-America.

Eighty or 90 men land on the coast of the 28,000-square-mile republic and take possession of some unheard of little village—Nombre de Dios. They warn that 300 more revolutionaries are on the way to join them.

The American public is immediately brought up to date on the military capabilities of Panama—3,000 militia, being reinforced by American arms—and the defenses of the Canal Zone.

U. S. planes stationed at the canal take to the air on reconnaissance. Someone in Congress talks about dispatching American troops and aircraft to the imperiled area.

All right, we know that governments have been toppled before by such comic opera events. We know that in all seriousness there could be dire consequences. Still, we can't restrain a reminiscent smile.

CONGRATULATIONS — JAYCEES!

As will be noted in an article elsewhere in this issue the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce or the second straight year was selected the most outstanding Chapter in the state of Pennsylvania, at the convention held in Harrisburg during the past weekend.

It is interesting to note also that the Chapter received seven other awards signifying excellence in various fields of community activity, in the category of communities up to 50,000. These include first place trophies for Youth Welfare Activities, Civic and Cultural Improvement projects and Trade Promotion programs. In addition the Chapter is winner of a Sweepstakes award for its Youth Welfare projects, presented to a single Chapter in the state regardless of population. It also is the possessor of a certificate in recognition of its extension of a Jaycee Chapter in Sugar Grove during the year. Most outstanding, however, are the Henry J. Giessenbier Memorial trophies, and the Giessenbier Sweepstakes award, presented to the single Chapter, regardless of population, which had the finest record of achievement in the state.

For the sixth time in the last seven years Warren was recognized as the best Chapter in Division III, and for the third time in seven years the Chapter was singled out to receive the Giessenbier Sweepstakes Award, emblematic of Junior Chamber Supremacy in Pennsylvania.

And finally, William Clinger received the Eyerman Award for Division III, presented yearly to the most outstanding local Jaycee President in each of the four population divisions.

The Times-Mirror joins others in the community in extending congratulations to President Clinger and members of the Chapter.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is the likelihood of war with the Communist world any time soon? And where, since communism is dedicated to conquering the earth, will the Soviets and Red Chinese do their pushing?

The State Department has provided careful answers to both questions. It doesn't rule out some shooting on a limited scale, if the Communists think it worth the price and the danger.

But the department says: for the foreseeable future it is likely the Soviets and Red Chinese will avoid all-out war and try to push their programs by political, economic and psychological means.

The State Department gave written answers to a series of questions from the Senate's Disarmament subcommittee.

Although the department is optimistic about avoiding a world war, it said enough to show it expects this country to have its hands full trying to cope with the Red bloc for years to come.

One thing the department made clear: It is satisfied that Premier Nikita Khrushchev, having eliminated his rivals, is undisputed boss of the Soviet Union and that therefore the political situation there should be stable for years.

It is ironic that just a few days before the May 11 meeting at Geneva—between the Western and Soviet foreign ministers to talk about troubles in Europe—the department was anticipating no end of trouble from the Communist bloc around the world.

This is the picture. So long as the West remains as well armed as the Soviets — and therefore could make all-out war unendurable — there isn't likely to be a general war.

But the Soviets' main thrust will probably continue to be in the under-developed countries, with main emphasis on the Middle East, where anti-Western feeling and native Communist help gives the Soviets hope for takeover.

Latin America and particularly the newly emerging countries of Africa will probably become increasingly important targets of Moscow's political-economic offensive.

The department added: "In Europe the basic Soviet objective is consolidation of Moscow's control in Eastern Europe and reduction of Western military strength, particularly that of the United States."

"Soviet policies there for the foreseeable future will thus be aimed at tightening Moscow's grip on what it has and depriving the west of its advantage there rather than at direct Soviet expansion, although they will also seek to force the West from its position in Berlin."

As for the Red Chinese: For the immediate future the most likely form of Chinese Communist expansion is continued effort to increase political and economic influence, especially in Southeast Asia, through trade offensives, subversion and political pressure.

The department seems less hopeful that the Red Chinese will refrain from shooting.

It said: "An attack could of course take place anywhere along the perimeter of Communist-controlled territory in Asia."

"Your Kidding!"

Here and There

Announcement last week of the sale of Metzger-Wright Company, Liberty street and Second avenue, to a partnership of Nahum Levinson, Indiana, Pa., Bert Levinson, Warren-Jamestown Road, Jacob Levinson, Warren, and David Luxenberg, Indiana, Pa., to be operated in the future as Levinson Brothers Department Store, revives many memories involving the long history of the store in this community. The news article recalls that the Department store originated 63 years ago, when it was known as Smart, Silberger and Metzger, in the famous old Hoffman Block, replaced by the present Kresge's five and dime store. A few years ago when the famous store celebrated its birthday "At Lilac Time" there appeared a somewhat interesting history of the store. It was on May 11, 1954, that this paper carried a story under a picture of the Metzger-Wright store building with the following story: "Every year when the Lilacs are in bloom, is the time for a Sales Event in Warren that is looked forward to by the thrifty in the community, that of Metzger-Wright's Anniversary Sale. C. E. Metzger, 58 years ago, formed a company of Smart, Silberger and Metzger and established a dry goods store in one room in the Hoffman Block where the Kresge store now stands. There were no paved streets in those days, the customers came with horse and buggy to choose their laces and calicos, and tied their horses to the hitching posts which lined the streets as do the meters of the present day. In a few years, Mr. Smart and Mr. Silberger retired from the partnership, later Mr. Metzger was joined by Mr. Hogan and the firm was known as Metzger & Hogan. Again this partnership was dissolved and Mr. Metzger took as his partner W. W. Wright. From this partnership the name Metzger-Wright has come down to the present day with a short lapse when Metzger-Wright's joined with C. H. Smith Co. and formed the partnership of Smith, Metzger-Wright Co. At this time, the company moved to the building which it now occupies. After this partnership with Mr.

Smith was dissolved, Mr. Metzger and Mr. Wright carried on, making Metzger-Wright's the leading department store in Warren county. After the deaths of Mr. Metzger and Mr. Wright, Mr. Wright's son, W. H. Wright, carried on as manager. In 1948 the interests were bought by Allied Stores Corporation and the buying power of this great group was made available to bring the greatest values in the Market to the Metzger-Wright's customers." xxx And now we, at the Times-Mirror, some of whom have worked with most of the department store owners listed above, are pleased to welcome the new Levinson Brothers Department Store, worthy successor to a long line of proprietors who have an enviable record of service to shoppers of the community and the entire area.

Under the heading "Mr. Towhee" the following interesting editorial appeared in a recent issue of The New York Times: "Some call Mr. Towhee the Che-wink and some call him the ground Robin. Both 'towhee' and 'chewink' are supposed to represent the first two notes of the bird's characteristic call; and, as further proof of the fallibility of words in transcribing bird calls, Thoreau set down the same notes as 'hip-y' and 'Seaton heard them as 'chuck-burr'. Few other bird calls have been so variously interpreted. But nobody is confused for long about the bird himself. Richly marked with gleaming black head and neck, clean white breast and belly, and rich chestnut sides, Mr. Towhee is a jaunty fellow almost as long as he is black. His mate is almost as vividly marked, with warm brown where the male is black. They make a striking pair in any field or back yard. But it is their vigor that most often makes them noticed. A towhee in a patch of dead leaves can make as much fuss as a bantam rooster. Only a fox sparrow can equal him for such activity, and the towhee is the more efficient of the two. He scratches the ground with alternate feet; the fox sparrow scratches with both feet at once. For all his nervous activity, the towhee is easily imposed upon, especially by crows, which often lay their eggs in towhee nests. Some say that more crows are hatched by towhees than by any other species. And still the towhee is a happy companion to have around. He comes north in April, almost as sure a sign of spring in these parts as the bluebird. He doesn't sing like an oriole, quite, but he makes the world a brighter place. Who cares what words he sings, as long as he struts and flirts his eloquent tail."

When preparing soil for the early vegetable garden, don't work soil that is too wet, warns Assistant County Agent, Blaine Schlosser, because such a practice could reduce yields throughout the entire growing season. Be sure vegetable garden soil is well drained to insure a good garden. Some vegetables which can be grown in the early garden are carrots, onions (plants or sets), radishes, peas, spinach, lettuce, cabbage, parsnips and salsify. After early garden crops are harvested, plant crops such as snap beans, corn, turnips, peppers, tomatoes, and cucumbers. Such a system of planting enables the gardener to make efficient use of his available land.

This Mad, Mixed-Up World ---Take Algeria for Instance

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Politicians, the press and the people of the United States never have any hesitation about expressing their opinions on other countries, other governments, other people and the way they run or fail to run things.

But it comes as considerable of a shock when some foreigner comes up with an observation on Americans that makes us want to run—not walk—to the nearest mirror to see if this is really us they're talking about.

Take the case of the Algerian rebellion against French rule. It has been going on for nearly five years. There are no statistics, but there may have been half a million casualties.

TO THE AVERAGE AMERICAN, the exact merits of either side are lost in a fog of misunderstanding or dismissed as somebody else's fight in which there is no U.S. interest. But there are some good American principles at stake. And they're worth looking at when pointed out.

Algerian leaders may say in effect that they don't expect direct U.S. help in their fight for independence, liberty, the ideals of Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, and George Washington.

The more intelligent Algerians realize that the United States has commitments to all North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, and that includes France.

Somewhat resignedly, they may say, "Go ahead and give the French what they need." The more understanding may even go so far as to say they recognize why France takes part of its NATO forces and arms and uses them against native African rebels.

"BUT FOR GOD'S SAKE," they ask of the United States, "why not make clear that you are sorry those arms are being used in this way? How do you expect illiterate Algerian tribesmen to understand why American-made planes and guns are used against them? Why not be consistent with your own principles of democracy?"

They can understand why United States public opinion builds up great sympathy for the Hungarians. They admire America for its "moral support"—whatever good that is—for the Dalai Lama. But the Algerians, unfortunately, have no such hero and arouse no such sympathy. It's their tough luck. Or they need a press agent.

Sometimes the Algerians must feel they have to overcome not only the Marquis de Lafayette, who helped George Washington; they must feel they are also fighting Brigitte Bardot and all the other French things that Americans like.

They may not be able to understand it, and yet they probably do. They can understand that the United States is fighting world communism. That is Enemy No. 1 today.

SOMETIMES THIS LEADS cynical Algerians with an ironic sense of humor to say that there is only one way out of their predicament.

That would be for France to go Communist. France has the largest Communist party in western Europe today. And if the De Gaulle government should go under, the Communists might take over.

The Algerian nationalist rebels would still go on fighting the government of France. If that government were Communist, they might expect them, and only then, that the United States would come to their assistance.

And if you think this isn't a crazy, mixed-up world we live in today, this should prove it.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The hard-won right of radio and television stations to editorialize is being utilized by only a small fraction of the nation's broadcasting facilities.

The majority of even the few that do editorialize, says Harold E. Fellows, president of the National Assn. of Broadcasters, take up matters virtually free of controversy.

What he meant was that many stations tend to devote their public service time to such uncontroversial controversies as the fact that sin is sinful.

An exception worthy of the attention of both broadcasters and public is radio station WMCA in New York, which not only offers listeners a wide-ranging, comprehensive service in public affairs. Once a week it also presents the voice of owner-President Nathan Straus in editorials with which not everyone can possibly agree.

In recent months WMCA — via the voice of Straus — has editorially backed a losing candidate for governor of New York (Averell Harriman), blasted the McCarran-Walters Immigration Act, and plugged fluoridation — a poisonous subject to some.

Its "editorial page" has criticized the State Department's policy toward Germany (in a city of numerous listeners of German descent), defended a railroad's position in discussing a computer problem (in an area abounding with irate commuters), slapped at racial attitudes (in a city with as many attitudes on the subject as there are ethnic strains).

After Peter Straus, vice president in charge of WMCA programming and the son of the station president, had finished describing the editorial plan the other day, I asked him:

"Has an editorial opinion expressed on the air ever resulted in the cancellation of advertising or caused a potential advertiser to refuse to buy time?"

"No," he replied, "never once to my knowledge. An advertiser's basic interest is in the size of the audience he reaches. And people—meaning the audience — do like controversy. We feel that when a station editorializes it must encompass it with a wider range of public service programming a little better than other competing stations."

"We try to do that, with a great variety of public affairs features as well as 48 five-minute news spots every 24 hours. Against that background listeners understand-

CLASSIFYING THE VIRUSES

Recognition of new viruses is proceeding apace. Approximately 90 have been established and studied in laboratories. These micro-organisms are so prevalent, the majority of us meet most of them at one time or another.

Scientists are kept busy naming these newly identified strains and they come up with some odd monikers. The HA virus is an example, but it is no laughing matter.

This group of respiratory agents, termed hemadsorption and abbreviated to HA, last year caused more acute respiratory disease among hospitalized children than did influenza. In one study they were responsible for 20 per cent of all respiratory illnesses in youngsters and were found in 42 per cent of croup cases.

The victim of HA develops fever and cough of two or three days' duration, together with nasal obstruction, headache, sore throat, and feelings of chilliness. Many young adults have protective anti-bodies against these viruses because of previous exposure. Extensive tests would be needed to determine whether Jimmy's cold is of HA origin but he will be well long before the tests are completed.

Another odd sounding culprit is the Sendai-HVJ-Influenza D strain. This virus was isolated in Sendai, Japan, during an outbreak of pneumonia among babies in a nursery. When the micro-organism is mixed with a solution containing red blood corpuscles, the cells clump together. This reaction is known as hemagglutination.

Put them all together and you have Hemagglutinating Virus of Japan. The Americans got into the act by adding influenza D because the Japanese virus resembles flu in this country. I predict these viruses will be re-named.

You never will guess what CAA means. This bug was isolated from a chimpanzee that had a nasal discharge and was coughing and sneezing. We know now that the chimpanzee coryza agent (CCA) is more common in humans and the apple probably got it from us. Eighty per cent of children possess neutralizing antibodies against this virus.

The CA viruses (Croup-Associated) were isolated from two of 12 infants with croup. The enteric cytopathogenic human orphan viruses are shortened to ECHO. If this keeps up, Washington may have to establish a new Department of Alphabetization.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics, if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request. TOMORROW: Items from medical journals.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
 PARIS (AP)—The French are greeting American businessmen these days with four pieces of good news and a couple of promises.

And the Americans are asking their French opposite numbers three as yet unresolved questions:

1. Will French labor upset the economic apperact with insistent demands for higher wages? 2. Will the French farmer stand for any clamping down on his prices? 3. How and when can the Algerian bloodletting be stopped and the financial drain on France ended?

But the French seem very confident today.

They are particularly proud of the good news which in recent days has pointed to success for President Charles de Gaulle's austerity program.

For one month at least France's exports have topped her imports — the first time in many months.

The French franc is so stable at present that even the tourists are not looking for bargains on the black market but getting their francs at the banks.

The cost of living index for the first time in many months was stable in April. The Bank of France is so confident that the threat of further inflation is licked for the time being at least that it has lowered the discount rate from 4.25 to 4 per cent giving the go sign to industry (French and American firms here alike) to borrow more for expansion of plants or activities.

The two promises the French are giving American business are: 1. That French import quotas on American goods will be relaxed further in the not too distant future — they already are relaxed on 90 per cent of France's trade with other European nations; 2. That some of the red tape that American firms wanting to build plants here complain about will be cut away.

The cost of living stability at the moment and the expectations it will last for a time is credited, to three things: wages have been held fairly level; so have prices on manufactured goods; and on food the big hope is the weather. It's been excellent for farming so far, meaning that the new crop of vegetables and fruits should come to the market earlier and in abundance.

Warren Teacher Is Youngsville Speaker

YOUNGVILLE — The Civil Defense program sponsored at the Legion Home by the Post and Auxiliary was well attended, with between 35 and 40 persons present.

Dan Goldthwaite, physics teacher in Warren High School, was the guest speaker, using a colored sound film to present Facts About Fallout. The movie showed the use of meters to determine distance of the bomb site, landing of the bomb and its explosion.

He explained what fallout really is, what the effect would be in case a bomb struck Cleveland, Erie, or any city west of here; preventative steps to take in seeking shelter; food supplies stocked in a basement or shelter; arrangements being made to protect children so that parents will not panic.

The speaker concluded by saying "The most important thing is that people be informed of what to expect in case of fallout, so that they may prepare in advance. Civil Defense can inform people and recommend what to do, but it is up to the people in groups such as the Legion and PTA to make the actual preparations. The greatest danger of fallout is panic, which a trained and prepared community can avert."

It is intended to have another such meeting in six or eight weeks, and classes in radiology seem very possible for September.

At the close of Mr. Goldthwaite's address, a nice musical program was presented by Joyce Abraham and Nancy Andreas, with their accordions, and Kenneth Buchanan, clarinetist, from Pittsfield.

Refreshments were served by the president, Hazel Giegerich, Joel Olsen, Leona Mack, Gene Howe. Committee for the program was Mrs. John Yagge, co-chairman with Legion Commander Milton E. Brown.

RUMMAGE SALE

MRS. WILLIAM RONALD COOKE, IV.

Against a background of palms, white lilies adorned First Presbyterian church at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, May 2, when Nancy Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hooker Cannon Jr., of Warren, became the bride of William Ronald Cooke, IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ronald Cooke, III, of Richmond, Va. The Rev. Donald H. Spencer, pastor, performed the ceremony.

Wearing a gown of Italian silk, with appliques of imported Italian lace studded with pearls and sequins, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with bracelet-length sleeves, princess line front, and portrait neckline, featuring lace and pearl appliques and graduating to a low vee in the back. The same-appliqued motif ornamented two long sashes which fell in large folds into a cathedral train.

Her illusion veil floated from beneath a small cap of silk and lace which matched her gown, and white violets and ivy overlaid her Bible, an heirloom in the Cooke family since 1848. Her wedding ring, another heirloom, had been in the bridegroom's family more than 100 years. Worn by his great-grandmother and his grandmother, it was fashioned of gold mined on their farm, "Greenwood," in Columbia, Va.

Mrs. George D. Templeton, Jr., was matron of honor for her sister; bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward H. Sykes, Jr., of Pittsburgh, and Carole Weigle, Warren; flower girls were the little Misses Dale and Page Cannon, nieces of the bride; with her nephew, Master G. Daniel Templeton, III, as ringbearer.

Attendants wore ballerina gowns or orchid silk organza and carried cascades of lavender lilacs. Their dresses had scoop necklines and short sleeves; Dior bows were of the same material.

To complete the bridal party, the best man was Walter Schray, Jonesville, Mich.; ushers, Rhodes Thomas, Richmond;

Diamond Grange Plans Meeting; Reports on Show

Diamond Grange of Tiona reminds its members they will have a tureen dinner at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, prefacing their regular business session; also that the Minstrel Show presented by East Branch Grange at Jefferson School Saturday evening as a benefit for Diamond's Building Fund was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

The members of Diamond unit are most appreciative of the generosity of East Branch in this special project. Each act was opened with a selection on an old fashioned hand-organ, rarely seen now but quite popular in the early 1900's, and capably handled by Raymond Hicks, with his son, Gary, as card boy.

During the finale, William Brooks was presented a birthday gift from the cast by Mrs. Burleigh.

In the intermission period, two Pennsylvania State Grange officers were introduced and spoke briefly but interestingly. A vocal solo by Mrs. Lola Lee McClellan, of Diamond Grange, was accompanied by Mrs. Carol Anderson and added much to the evening's fine entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Church, chairmen for the event, takehouse.

Following the show, members of the cast and committee were entertained at the Church home, with lunch served by Mrs. Mabel Rapp, ably assisted by ladies of Diamond Grange. A beautiful floral centerpiece was a gift from Ben and Peg Jones, owners of North Warren Greenhouse.

Golden Agers Evidence Great Musical Ability

As the wonderful Golden Age Society grows in membership and interest locally, more and more musical talent is evidencing itself at the regular get-togethers.

Only recently, one of Warren's well-known musicians, Edgar Swanson was persuaded to delight Society members and lend great assistance to the group by presenting two exquisite violin solos. It is hoped that he will continue to participate at future musicales.

The Golden Age Chorus, directed by Mrs. Edward Slick, has made wonderful progress to achieve an outstanding singing combination. More men's voices are needed to balance, but Mrs. Slick is hopeful that new members will respond and join the fun. The Golden Age Society is non-denominational, the only requirement being that a person be 60 years young or more.

The group meets the second and fourth Monday at 1:00 p. m. in the YWCA, and there is a movement building up to organize an instrumental combine. The chorus meets on the same days as the usual bi-monthly meetings.

Letters to Editor

April 30, 1959

Editor,
Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Pennsylvania.
Sir:

Throughout the tragic years of subjugation and exploitation of their homeland, Ukraine, by the Muscovite-Russians, whether under the imperialist czars or the identical policy-minded Russian communist-imperialists, Ukrainians in the prison of nations: the USSR, and those more fortunate millions beyond their cruelly-imprisoned land, revere Count Ivan Mazepa as their great hero and architect of independence and freedom, especially this 250th anniversary year.

Today, the Ukrainians beyond the "Iron Curtain" are glorifying him in mammoth symposiums, concerts and religious commemorations wherever they have settled in the free world in order to demonstrate to free men everywhere the rapacity and deception that is embodied in Russian communism.

In 1709, Hetman Mazepa, and the Ukrainian Host made a heroic stand with King Charles XII at Poltava, Ukraine against the cruel tyrant Peter the Great of Muscovy - Russia. Although they were defeated, this spirit and epic struggle still lives in the hearts of Ukrainians who won their freedom in 1918 only to be destroyed by another more terrible Russian imperialism—Russian communism, which roams throughout the world seeking whomever it may devour and ensnare with its deceit and blackmail.

Representative Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.) said, "The people of Soviet Ukraine are one of our chief allies behind the Iron Curtain . . . that Communist success depend on leading the free world into abandoning the captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain."

Ukrainians dare not let the world forget what happened to Ukraine. The Berlin crisis has been conducted by the Russians in order to divert the attention of our leaders and people from the machinations and plots constantly being hatched by the Russians all over the world.

In order to understand Russian communism, which is actually Russian imperialism, we must realize that the Soviet Union, which is composed of 200 million people, is not all Russian. The Russians are a minority. The Soviet Union is composed of many captive nations with millions of non-Russian peoples: Ukrainians, Estonians, Lithuanians, Armenians, Georgians, Turkestani, etc. Knowing the attitude of these captive peoples, the revolt in Hungary was brutally crushed, even at the expense of world opinion, because the Kremlinities could not afford to have the Ukrainians, Letts and other captive peoples to get into the act. Sic transit gloria mundi.
Sincerely yours,
Theodore Bleech

Hank Aaron Continues To Be Champion Braves' Big Gun

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This may be the year in which Hank Aaron establishes himself as one of baseball's greatest right-handed hitters, alongside such famous sluggers as Rogers Hornsby, Harry Heilmann, Ed Delahanty, Sam Crawford, Jimmy Fox, Hank Greenberg and Al Simmons.

All the Milwaukee mauler did Sunday against the San Francisco Giants was hit a single and two home runs. He scored three runs and drove in another with a sacrifice fly as the Braves won 9-4 to regain first place from the Giants by half a game.

Aaron is batting an even .500 with 36 hits in 72 times at bat. He is tied with teammate Eddie Mathews for the league's home run leadership with 8; he leads in hits, is third in runs scored with 18, tied for third with 8 doubles, and tied for fifth with 20 runs batted in. His slugging percentage is an incredible .972.

If he continues even near his pace, Aaron is a good bet to capture the triple crown—home runs, runs batted in and batting percentage. He has won all three titles but never in one year.

Cincinnati and Los Angeles were in a virtual tie with the Giants for second place following the split of their doubleheader. The Reds won the first game 6-3 and the Dodgers took the second, 7-1.

Chicago maintained its 500 level, dividing a pair with Philadelphia. The Cubs won the opener 4-3 and the Phillies triumphed in the nightcap 5-4. Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-3 in the first game of their twin bill. The Cards were leading 2-1 after 6½ innings of the second game, halted by Pennsylvania's 7 p.m. curfew law. The game will be resumed June 2.

Cleveland increased its first place lead to 2½ games in the American League, splitting a pair with Washington. The Indians won the first game 5-0 and the Senators topped the second 3-1.

Six home runs featured Milwaukee's triumph over San Francisco. Lew Burdette allowed six hits in winning his fifth game for the Braves but three of those were home runs. Willie Mays, Daryl Spencer and Andre Rodgers got them for the Giants.

Del Crandall joined Aaron in the Braves' homer spree. A double by Frank Torre, however, was the key blow. It came with the bases full to highlight a five-run fifth against loser Johnny Antonelli and two relievers.

Jerry Lynch slammed a three-run homer in the ninth to snap a 3-3 tie and give the Reds their first game victory over the Dodgers. Bob Mabe won it in relief. Danny McDevitt got the Dodgers even, spacing 10 hits in the nightcap. Gil Hodges cracked a two-run single in the sixth to spark a three-run rally against loser Joe Nuxhall.

Bill Mazeroski tripled in the tying run in the seventh, then singled home the winning run in the ninth as Pittsburgh made it two in a row over St. Louis. Manager Solly Hemus drove in the lead run for the Cards with a double before the second game was halted by curfew. Hemus ignited a lively rhabarb in the sixth when his bat slipped and nearly hit pitcher Bennie Daniels. Earlier, Daniels had hit the Card skipper with a pitched ball. No blows were struck.

Pirate and Card Game Sparked by 5-Minute Melee

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A five-minute melee broke out in the second game of a doubleheader between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday with players from both dugouts storming onto the field.

It erupted after Cardinal player-manager Solly Hemus swung at a pitch in the sixth inning and his bat flew toward the mound at Bennie Daniels. The rookie right-hander had hit Hemus with a pitch in the first inning and came close again in the sixth.

A few wild punches reportedly were thrown during the rhabarb, but none apparently landed with any telling effect. Hemus was observed to have a small nick on his chin but he said he didn't know how he got it.

Asked if he had caught any punches, Hemus said "I guess I did, but I didn't get hurt."

Hemus said he hadn't thrown the bat intentionally, that it just slipped. Daniels wasn't struck with the bat.

Pirate coach Lenny Levy reportedly engaged in a shoving match with Card pitcher Larry Jackson. Levy said he had grabbed Hemus and told him:

"Solly, you ought to be ashamed of yourself. You're a big leaguer. He called me some names and Jackson got into it and I threw a few punches. I guess I connected with a couple, but don't know whom I hit. A couple of them brushed me, too."

The umpires didn't eject anyone because of the rhabarb but Hemus, playing second, took himself out after the Cardinal half of the inning ended.

The game was suspended after 6½ innings because of Pennsylvania's 7 p.m. curfew law with the Cards leading 2-1. It will be completed prior to a night contest June 2.

The Land of the Bible

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
In the face of much hostility, actual warfare, ever-present dangers, and many difficult problems. It is possible that the end is not yet.

The immense, surrounding world is hostile, but it is my belief that the sheer courage, determination and efficiency of the small Israel state will in time induce more peaceful adjustments.

It might be said that what Israel has accomplished could never have been done without the financial backing in gifts and loans that has come from the U.S.A.

But the reverse side of this is that no amount of money in the world could ever have effected any such achievement without the vision, planning, skills, organizing genius, determined courage and spirit, which the leaders of Israel and its new citizens have displayed.

Perhaps some are aware that Jews themselves have been divided over the Zionism that has brought about the political state. However this may be, some results emerging from the Jewish state are essentially religious and all to the good. I have recently observed how much the policy of Israel is to break down religious barriers and prejudices in the encouragement, without any bias, of the pilgrimages to holy places, which have been increasing greatly.

In some respects Israel might be regarded as a great achievement in a secular state, but I think its religious significance in the homeland of the Bible is not to be disregarded nor underestimated.

Just now, one decade is of incredible importance. It is the 10 years since the republic of Israel was established. The building and progress of those 10 years constitute a triumph of Jews in action comparable with the greatest attainment and vision in the long history of Israel.

Desert places have bloomed. Great business and industrial developments have brought modern civilization alongside an age-old environment.

Perhaps greatest of all is the vision and courage with which the new state has opened its coast and borders to the influx of amazing numbers of refugees otherwise without hope.

All this is being accomplished

Parents' Quarreling Prompts Child's Bitter Rebellion

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"My sister and her husband don't get along," writes Mrs. F. "Yesterday I found her crying. Finally she told me she'd discovered that my 7-year-old nephew has been taking money from her bag systematically. I can't help feeling that his parents' constant quarreling has something to do with it. Could I be right?"

Maybe a child will sometimes turn to stealing to show his resentment at parental conflict.

It's an understandable resentment. At 7, for example, this little boy can't make all his own decisions. He can't be sure he needs 11 hours sleep; that he should ask his teacher to explain things he doesn't understand; that he's not the undesirable character the big boy down the block says he is.

He needs parents he trusts to help him become sure. If they quarrel constantly, he can't trust them. By their mutual criticism, each destroys the other's reliability for him. He might indeed resent their depriving him of reliable guidance, and start trying to deprive them by stealing money from them.

Could Mrs. F.'s sister look at the possibility that his stealing reflects his anger at her quarrelsome marriage? It might be quite profitable to look at it.

Though unhappily married people ask little for themselves, they can sometimes ask more for their children. For some reason, they feel obliged to put up with their chronic hurts, anger and loneliness as afflictions they deserve. But a child's rebellion against his home's unhappiness can occasionally arouse them from their apathy.

He'll take some protesting action like stealing that says, "I'm sick and tired of being orphaned by this fighting and want something done about it." Then one or the other of his parents may think, "I must get help for this child." The conscience which won't let them seek relief for themselves graciously permits them to seek it for the child.

The agency that can direct this mother is her local Family Service Association.

I hope she applies to it. Quite often, after getting help for a child, we discover we really wanted it for ourselves all along.

This is always a very constructive discovery.

There's New Beauty for Home in Plastic Tableware

Melamine plastic plates, tumblers, sauce dishes and other pieces keep their beauty when cleaning routines are observed.

Any lingering doubts you may have about the acceptability of plastic dinnerware from a fashionable angle will be quickly dispelled by a visit to the tableware department in almost any store.

Quality melamine dinnerware is displayed with as much finesse as fine china. The quantity of new patterns include some reproductions of famous old patterns used on imported ware.

Most of the patterns, however, lean toward the contemporary. Lovely colors are the rule, not the exception, today.

One improvement I can notice in the last few years is in the shapes of cups; handles are more graceful, cups are more curved and edges are thinner.

Although the practical aspect of plastic dinnerware has been widely praised, major emphasis has been on its resistance to breakage.

Its light weight is another factor that homemakers or brides-to-be will appreciate.

If one must move household goods often, the weight factor is an advantage again.

AS DURABLE AS IT IS, plastic dinnerware will look even better, longer, if it's given proper care. Most of it can be washed in a dishwasher, but dishes should be pre-rinsed to remove food particles.

The just-below-simmering temperature of water used in some of these solutions won't bend or soften fine quality melamine.

And, sad as it is to report, there are still forgetful homemakers who apparently confuse plastic tableware with other materials and try to cook or bake foods in the bowls for oven-to-table service.

The results can be pretty gummy and, of course, the plastic will be ruined.

Sometimes You Have to Stand Up to Teen-Agers

You can't do your duty as a parent if you've let your teen-age children make you afraid of being "out of it." If you listen to your kids' ideas of what their friends will think of you if you stand up for what you believe is right and insist that the teen-agers who come to your home act like ladies and gentlemen, you're sunk.

You might as well be another teen-ager if you are going to accept their standards instead of upholding your own.

The breakdown of adult authority and influence comes in many small and subtle ways.

You let a teen-age party get out of hand because you don't want to be regarded as a wet blanket. You say nary a word when your children's friends annoy the neighbors by sitting in cars and honking horns instead of getting out and coming to the door.

You can't seem to say "No" when your own teen-ager, surrounded by several of his friends, asks to go some place or do something common sense tells you isn't a good idea.

You find out the names of the teen-agers who destroy your property "just for kicks"—but let your own teen-ager convince you that if you notify their parents he'll never be able to live it down.

You let teen-agers disregard the simple rules of courtesy in your own home without a word of protest because you are so afraid that if you insist on courtesy they might not want to come back.

You are reluctant to put in a good word for their teachers and school authorities when teen-agers are running them down.

If you find some of their slang offensive, you keep quiet.

You're trying so hard to please the teen-agers you forget that what was once considered important was for young people to please their elders. And then you wonder why young people today seem to have so little respect for adult

Mong Resets Javelin Record as Dragons Receive 78-49 Loss

Setting an all-time mark for Warren High School in the javelin event, Dennis Mong Friday shattered a record set by him ten days earlier in the javelin toss.

The record-making event was staged against Meadville on the Bulldog field Friday. Coach Loyal Briggs' thinclads dropped the Section II scholastic meet 78-49 to the Bulldogs. Meadville edged Warren out in both track and field competition to win the meet.

Mong's toss of the javelin Friday was 175 feet 11 inches, nearly a two-foot betterment to the 174-1 foot toss on April 21.

Craig Johnson continued to prove his strength in the hurdles, capturing both low and high hurdle contests. The senior veteran also ran the winning mile relay, along with Betts, Laniewicz and Cashman.

Only other track victory for the Blue and White thinclads was the 440, taken by Wick. Fowler's throw of the discus was good for another Warren victory.

Score sheet showed nine first places for Meadville, 10 seconds and 4 thirds. Warren had 6 first places, 5 second and 8 thirds.

Ostergard (W) and Laderer (M) tied for second in pole vault, Fowler (W) and Painter (M) were knotted for second in high jump competition.

The Bulldogs made two clean sweeps, in half mile relay and broad jump.

FIGHT RESULTS

FRIDAY NIGHT

By The Associated Press
Indianapolis — Floyd Patterson, 182½, New York, knocked out Brian London, 208, Blackpool, England, 11. Patterson retained world heavyweight title.
San Diego, Calif. — Charlie Powell vs. Otis Fullmer, bout postponed to May 22.

Next Title Bout Will Be Telecast To Closed Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Look for an announcement soon that the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight will be telecast into theaters and arenas.

TelePrompTer appears to have clinched the deal with promoter Bill Rosenzohn, a former TPT executive, for the TV rights to the June 25 international scrap in Yankee Stadium. The closed circuit telecast will not be beamed into your living room.

Patterson, incidentally, is only a 13-5 favorite now to beat the undefeated Swede who holds the European championship.

Mexico's Gaspar Ortega and Rudolph Stutch of Louisville will have it out in a return bout at Syracuse, N. Y., Friday night in the television headliner (NBC 9 p.m., EST). Ortega won by a hairline, one-point decision in their first meeting at New York last Feb. 6.

The unlucky Mexican Indian suffered cuts in that clash and has been sidelined since. Gaspar's record is 48-14-2, including 20 kayos. Stutch's record is 19-5, including 10 kayos.

SMALL CRAFT FLEET MAKES RIVER TRIP

An "enjoyable" excursion was reported by a group of area boating enthusiasts on their Allegheny River boat trip to East Brady and Pittsburgh over the weekend. Early Saturday morning, 28 boats left Warren, picking up a Youngsville barge at Irvine, just recently constructed. One boat experienced trouble at Starbrick when the propeller struck a stone, and had to withdraw from the trip. The group reported cakes of ice lining the bank around the Oil City area. They also saw many of the camps and homes damaged in the January floods. Tents provided protection against a Saturday night downpour when the men camped near East Brady. Nineteen boats made the trip into Pittsburgh, others remaining at East Brady. A spokesman for the river adventurers said Saturday's trip was one of the most successful ever taken by area boaters.

Warren Shooters Win Scholastic Rifle Meet

Dan Goldwalth's triggermen were paced by the shooting of Paul Mahaffy, high man with 378. High for Clearfield was Esheleman, 347.

Use Least-Lofted Club

(Thirteenth of series written for Times-Mirror and NE Service).

By DOW FINSTERWALD
PGA Champion

NEXT: The basic principle of good chipping.

Unless the circumstances are unusual when playing a short approach, I use a club which will propel the ball in the air about six feet onto the putting surface and impart enough roll to carry it to the cup.

The reason for dropping the ball well onto the green is to make sure that it doesn't fall short in the grass fringe and be slowed up considerably. Greens are more consistent than the fringe in texture and firmness.

To be consistent, always use the least-lofted club the setup will permit. This cuts down the margin of error.

A distinguishing feature of the short chip shot is the minimum amount of body motion. Playing the close-in chip from the fringe, movement is limited almost exclusively to the wrists and hands.

Dragons Whip Jamestown as Nick Belts Ball to Score Winning Run

Nick Creola lined a single to center in ninth inning on which Don McKelvey scored to beat Jamestown 3-2 on Memorial Field Friday afternoon.

Kelly McCool's three-hit pitching enabled the Blue and White diamond players to win their second game in as many starts.

McCool was never in trouble until fourth inning. Iannelli, Jamestown, hit a double, Fashano sacrificed Iannelli to third.

Cardinale got on on a fielder's choice and Glover drilled a sharp single to left, scoring Iannelli. McCool pulled out of the jam and had fairly easy sailing until top of seventh.

Kelly walked Anderson, then struck out Olson. The Warren twirler saw Anderson steal off a wild pitch then he walked the next batter, Catcher Doug Lind let a ball get away and Anderson and Swan advanced a base. Enserro flied to left and Anderson scored the second Jamestown run.

Swan pitched last five innings for Red Raiders. In the sixth, Warren had men on third and second with one out. Jamestown's defense wouldn't let Warren score.

Don McKelvey started the seventh by getting on by an error, Creola followed with a walk. Coach Dan Stimmell called Ron Seder for Bud Chapel. Seder came through with a base hit, filling the bags. Lind lined a sharp double to deep left. McKelvey and Creola both scored to tie the game 2-2.

Going into extra innings, Dragons took the field in top of the eighth. McCool struck out three Red Raiders. Jamestown's O'Neill then struck out three Warren batters. McCool set them down in order in ninth innig.

Hard-hitting McKelvey led the inning off with a grounder to short stop. The shortstop hurried his throw and threw wild, allowing McKelvey to easily take second. Creola, who "all pitchers have respect for" as a fan explained, stepped to the batter's box.

Nicky swung at the pitched ball, McKelvey scored.

Shoemaker Winner in Most Thrilling Derby Classic

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
 LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Willie Shoemaker made the right choice when he selected Tony Lee over Sword Dancer as his Kentucky Derby mount. The English-bred Tony Lee beat Sword Dancer by a nose.

But had the four-time national riding champion selected Sword Dancer, he still would have been right. That was the opinion of trainers today after one of the most thrilling of the 85 derbies at Churchill Downs.

Tony Lee's 71-year-old trainer, Frank Childs, said, "That eight inches (the margin of victory) makes a great horse out of Tony Lee. However, I think that if we had switched jockeys (with Shoemaker on Sword Dancer) the other horse might have won. I'd have to give it to him."

"If you don't get Shoemaker it looks as if you might as well not run," said Moody Jolley, trainer of Dunce, who finished seventh in the 17-horse field. "Boland had the race won but Shoemaker just outrode him."

Elliott Burch, trainer of Sword Dancer, refused to answer when asked if his horse would have won had Shoemaker been in the saddle in place of Bill Boland. Burch learned only last Monday that Shoemaker had decided on Tony Lee instead of Sword Dancer. Shoe also could have ridden Royal Orbit.

Wot 'it Me?

Rubbery legged Brian London, of England, is aided to his feet by handlers after he was knocked out in the 11th round of his fight with Floyd Patterson in Indianapolis, Ind.

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
 INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson said he wanted a "warmup" and that's just about what he got in methodically chopping down Britain's Brian London in the 11th round of their title fight.

It looked as if the 24-year-old champ could pull the string any time he wanted Friday night. Floyd pulled it at 51 seconds of the 11th with a jolting left hook to the jaw that sent the burly, 24-year-old Briton on his seat and then on his side for the full count.

Whether the New Yorker was stretching it out or fighting it out as best as he could, the whole thing served to boost the spirits of Patterson's next challenger, Ingemar Johansson.

"I think I have a good chance of being the next heavyweight champion," said the handsome, undefeated Swede. Johansson, the European champion, meets Patterson at New York's Yankee Stadium, June 25.

"Patterson was taking it easy," Johansson said. "If he went out from the start and got down to business, he could have put him out any time."

For a time it appeared Patterson might blast out the 10-1 long-shot early. The fast-punching, 182½ Patterson rocked his 208-pound rival in the first two rounds and then seemed to ease up.

After that he beat a steady tattoo to the reddening body of his game, powerless foe. In the eighth he shook up London but it wasn't until the 10th that he finally floored him.

The end obviously was in sight and Patterson wasted no time in getting the kill. A barrage of searing body blows finished London. London had practically no offense. Mostly he jabbed with his left and most of his shots fell short of his elusive target. Patterson's under most of London's straight rights.

Jock Jacoy, West Coast veterinarian who attends Royal Orbit.

Other trainers also said they thought Shoemaker would have won on either of the first two horses.

"And that isn't taking anything away from Boland," said one. "He's a great hand rider. But Shoemaker has that little something extra."

Pictures of the race show that Shoemaker shifted his whip to his left hand in the final yards, gave Tony Lee three cracks and then literally lifted the Texas-owned colt under the wire with a great hand ride.

Boland claimed he was bothered by Tony Lee several times in the stretch but the stewards, after reviewing the pictures and holding up the official decision for 18 minutes, said there was not enough contact to warrant changing the order of the finish.

First Landing, the 1958 two-year-old champion and a slight choice over Tony Lee, trailed by another 2½ lengths for third money.

Despite the respect for Shoemaker, a number of the horses who trailed Tony Lee will take another shot at Fred Turner Jr.'s race in the Preakness May 16.

Lowly Tigers Dump Yanks In Double Header, 4-2, 8-2

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's too early to call Jimmy Dykes a miracle manager but the 62-year-old, cigar-smoking Sir James must have a Midas touch. Look what the likeable little round man did just 24 hours after he had been appointed the Detroit manager.

He took a badly disorganized Detroit team, brought an outfielder—Charlie Maxwell—out of the managerial doghouse and a pitcher—Don Mossi—out of the over-worked bullpen and proceeded to lead the cellar-dwelling Tigers to a stunning doubleheader sweep over the New York Yankees. The scores of Dykes' auspicious debut were 4-2 and 8-2.

Thus, in one day, Dykes won as many games as his predecessor, Bill Norman, had won in the previous 17.

Giving reeling ball clubs a shot in the arm is nothing new for Dr. Dykes. Last August 14, he succeeded Birdie Tebbetts as manager of the last place Cincinnati Reds and directed them to a fourth place finish.

Dykes, of course, didn't pitch and didn't hit. The pitching was taken care of by Frank (Yankee Killer) Lary and Mossi; the hitting by Maxwell, Lary and Mossi allowed only eight hits apiece. The first game, a triumph, was Lary's 17th in 22 lifetime decisions with the Yankees. He whipped them seven times last year.

Maxwell walloped four consecutive home runs to equal a major league record. Three of them came in the second game, during which he drove in six runs. Before Sunday, the left-handed Maxwell had hit only one homer, in a pinch hit role. He had lost his left field job to Larry Doby because of a batting slump.

The Yankees, who now have lost five in succession and nine of their last ten, now rest in seventh place, 6½ games behind the American League leading Cleveland, which split a doubleheader with Washington. After Jim Grant had pitched the Indians to a 5-0 triumph in the opener, Hal Griggs of Washington outpitched veteran Mike Garcia 3-1 in the nightcap.

Baltimore moved into a triple tie for second place with Chicago and Kansas City, defeating the White Sox 4-2 in 10 innings. The Athletics trounced Boston 7-3.

Milwaukee regained first place in the National League, thrashing the San Francisco Giants 9-4. Cincinnati and Los Angeles were virtually in a second place deadlock with the Giants, after dividing their twin bill. The Reds won the opener 6-3 and the Dodgers took the second game 7-1.

Billy Martin was the batting star of Cleveland's first game triumph. He drove in two runs with a single and homer and scored twice. The shutout was the first by Cleveland in the 107 games the Indians have played under Joe Gordon since he succeeded Bobby Bragan last season.

The second game runs were scored in the ninth inning. Washington tallied three unearned runs on an error, a single by Bob Allison, a two-run double by Harmon Killebrew and Ed Fitzgerald's single. Rocky Colavito ruined Griggs' shutout bid with a home run for the Indians in the last of the ninth.

Billy Gardner and Chico Carrasquel hit home runs in the tenth off relief pitcher Turk Lown to give Baltimore's Billy Loes his second triumph against one defeat. Loes replaced starter Billy O'Dell in the ninth.

Homer's also won for Kansas City Roger Maris and Bob Cerv wore the four-bagger hitters, each coming with a man on base. Ralph Terry allowed eight hits for his second victory. Frank Malzone hit two homers for the losing Red Sox.

Girls Use Fable Of Abduction To "Cover Up" Hike

Two Clarendon RD 1 girls have admitted their story of being snatched from a bus and taken into the woods by two men was a fantastic fable to cover up for a long lapse from their homes Sunday.

The girls, ages 15 and 10, told borough police that when they tried to enter a bus which had brought them to church in Warren, two men grabbed them and drove off with them in a car.

The men were alleged to have taken them into nearby woods, where the girls told police they escaped when the driver left the car.

Girls admitted they had spent the day with two boys on a hike and used the false abduction tale to cover up for their long absence from home.

They were released after a stern lecture.

Marines Coming Home Hurt in Car Accident

Driver of a car which over turned near Sheffield Sunday morning, apparently fell asleep while enroute to visit his parent's home in Sheffield.

Joseph Goldthwaite, 19, told State Troopers he fell asleep about one mile west of Sheffield at 5:35 a. m. Sunday when his car left the highway and turned over.

With Goldthwaite was 19-year-old Joseph Campinelli, of Wellsburg, West Virginia. Both are U. S. Marines, stationed at Camp LeJeune, North Carolina.

Goldthwaite sustained a lacerated right elbow and abrasions of face. Campinelli was admitted to Warren General for treatment of a back injury.

second year in a row, Warren had also been singled out by the judges to receive the Giessemer Sweepstakes Award, emblematic of Junior Chamber supremacy in Pennsylvania. The more than 1000 convention delegates gave the Warren chapter a standing ovation as William Clinger, local president, stepped forward to accept the award for the chapter from Morgan Doughton, State President.

Clinger, himself, was honored later in the program when he was presented with the Eyerman Award for Division III which is presented to the most outstanding local Jaycee president in each of the four presidential divisions. William Hirsch, President of the Philadelphia Jaycees, won the Eyerman Sweepstakes Award.

Youth Welfare activities conducted by the local chapter during the past year which contributed to the winning of the award in this field were the Soap Box Derby, Teen Age Road-Bo, Junior Tennis and Golf programs, Career Conference Night and Community Ambassador program. Civic and Cultural Improvement projects included the Concert and film series, the Christmas Sign, Junior Executive Training Program and the library promotion project. The annual 4th of July celebration won first place honors in the field of Trade promotion. Judging for the Giessemer trophy is based on the total years' program which included all of the above projects plus many others.

The Warren chapter's project scrapbooks will now be entered into national competition. The presentation of these awards will be made at the National Convention in Buffalo next month.

Harry Light of Abington, Penna., was elected State President.

President-Elect Thomas said today that during the coming year the Warren Jaycee chapter would strive for even higher levels of community service and civic achievement. He emphasized that while awards are gratifying to receive in recognition of excellence, they are secondary to the main purpose of the Junior Chamber of Commerce which is to provide service to the community.

FAVOR CONEWANGO DAM

Jamestown Sun: Some 10,000 members of 22 sportsmen's clubs "positively" favor a dam in Conewango instead of at Kinzua. Roy Gravink, president of the Chautauque County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, Inc., said the Kinzua location "will destroy the finest area of wild life this side of the Mississippi River while Conewango will create another." In a telegram sent Tuesday to Rep. T. J. Dulski in Washington, Gravink also said the dam should be built in Conewango Valley "because it will provide twice as much water as Kinzua and a steady supply year round for the Pittsburgh area. The cost would be $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 less. Copies of the telegram were sent to Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Rep. Edward F. O'Neill. Advocates of the Kinzua Dam and the Conewango Valley project will appear before a House appropriations sub-committee in Washington Tuesday to argue the case. Rep. Dulski is one of the proponents of the Conewango project. Also for it is Dr. William Morgan, engineer who has favored the New York State project.

was wearing similar pedal pushers the day the family vanished and that the coat belonged to Virginia.

The family, after telling friends they were on their way to the woods to get Christmas greens, happily climbed into their red and white station wagon Sunday morning Dec. 7, and drove east up the Oregon side of the Columbia River to Cascade Locks where Martin purchased a small amount of gasoline. Then they disappeared.

A similar abrupt disappearance of a Minnesota building contractor, his wife and their five children last Dec. 23 remains a mystery to authorities today.

Sheriff Leon Odgaard, Glencoe, Minn., said no clues have been received by his office to date as to the whereabouts of Earl Zrust, 30, and his family of Silver Lake, a community of about 600 persons 40 miles west of Minneapolis.

Legislature that the case might have some effect upon a move by Gov. Leroy Collins to abolish the death penalty in capital cases, including rape.

Demands mounted from Negro groups for vigorous, fair prosecution of the quartet, quoted by Sheriff Bill Joyce as admitting the crime.

A deputy sheriff said he found the 19-year-old Florida A&M student bound and gagged, still in her armed assailants' car when he arrested four Tallahasseeans at gunpoint early Saturday.

Florida's maximum penalty for a rape conviction is death, but no white man has ever gone to the state's electric chair for raping a Negro.

Jefferson Bond Issue Paid Off in Advance

The Authority Bond Issue, floated in 1952 to finance construction of the Jefferson School building, has been paid off in advance, according to a statement made today by Dr. Carl Whipple, superintendent of schools. The bonds, scheduled to be paid in full in 1960, were called in advance with a final payment of approximately $19,000 made April 1. The move closes the books on one authority bond issue to clear the way for similar financing for the new Warren Area High School in the amount of nearly three million dollars.

Lease rental for the current authority bond issue to extend for a forty year period (less administration costs) is estimated at $184,902 annually.

flying the local delegation to the Capital to testify before a congressional committee. After the plane had left Bradford, an anonymous phone call was made to Allegheny Airlines reporting a bomb aboard. The message was quickly relayed to Mohawk and thence to Washington where the FBI conducted a thorough search of the aircraft. No bomb was found.

The phone call was traced to the pay station at the bus terminal on Pennsylvania avenue. FBI agents, with Warren police officer, William Hewitt investigated to determine who had used the phone at the time the call was placed Thursday. Both women are employed at local banks. Miss Quigley was at her desk today and Mrs. Kroemer will be back at her work Tuesday.

Both expressed extreme regret over the incident. Speaking for herself and her sister Mrs. Kroemer said today: "We realize we made a terrible mistake and are profoundly sorry for all the worry and trouble we caused by making the call!"

At Harrisburg Friday night about 40 passengers and all luggage were removed from a twin-engine Trans-World airliner while a search was made for a bomb. According to Associated Press, the firm's Columbus office received an anonymous telephone call that a bomb had been placed aboard a plane in that Ohio city. Since the informant did not say which plane was affected, TWA ordered a search of three airplanes which had passed through Columbus.

Section 35, Title 18 of the United States Code makes it a crime to make a false report that a bomb is aboard a civil aircraft engaged in interstate commerce. E. Hugo Winterrowd, FBI special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh division, investigated the local incident in cooperation with Sgt. Bill Hewitt, of the Warren Police Department.

Increase in K. of C. Membership Recorded

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Knights of Columbus today announced Pennsylvania membership has increased 10 per cent in the past year to an all time high of 62,500.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Council was told the membership boost was the result of an intensive 1958 drive. More than 1,000 members are attending the convention here.

John L. Cooney, state K of C deputy and chairman of the membership drive, said there are now 255 councils in Pennsylvania.

DEAR MARY:

I just came home from Montgomery Ward's with my new Zig Zag sewing machine. It is really a marvel. I traded my old sewing machine in & got a new Automatic Zig Zag for only $116.88. This model compares very well with sewing machines selling for $239.95, so I just saved $122 on my purchase. Ward's sewing machines are guaranteed for 20 yrs. & I know Montgomery Ward's will still be in business if I need new parts after 20 years of use. Take my advice, Mary, & get in on this terrific trade-in deal today.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernie Wingert, Warren County Agricultural Agent

Recently we have been receiving calls asking about the type of lime to buy for lawns and gardens. Quite often we hear farmers discussing the relative merits of "bag lime" versus "bulk lime" and considerable confusion exists as to its use and value in the soil.

First, let's begin by saying that lime is not a fertilizer. It is a soil conditioner which not only reduces acidity but, in general, improves the physical condition or structure of certain heavy clay soils.

Here are the names of the materials most commonly used to treat acid soils—Shell meal, limestone, hydrated lime, burned lime, and dolomite. Pulverized limestone constitutes by far the largest tonnage of any of the liming materials used in the United States. In some areas the burned or hydrated forms of lime are used. Shell meal is not used very much in Pennsylvania. It is derived from ground oyster shells.

Limestone comes from natural limestone deposits, and the chemical is 95% calcium carbonate equivalent. It is the pure rock with nothing added or subtracted from it. The only thing that is done is the mechanical process of crushing it into fine particles so that it can react with the soil.

Hydrated lime is limestone burned with steam and it becomes a chemical called calcium hydroxide. It has a calcium carbonate equivalent of 120%, therefore it takes fewer pounds of hydrated lime to do the same job as ground limestone.

Hydrated lime has the advantage that it is more finely divided than pulverized limestone, it is more readily soluble, and it is faster acting. It is a more concentrated product since 1,480 pounds of hydrated lime derived from calcite limestone will do the same neutralizing job as 2,000 pounds of crushed limestone. But remember it is still only limestone burned with steam and that over a period of years you can get exactly the same results from the crushed limestone by allowing the weather to do the breaking down of the product for you.

Burned limestone is limestone burned in a kiln. Upon burning it becomes calcium oxide with 150% calcium carbonate equivalent. Therefore, even fewer pounds of this material is needed than hydrated lime to do the neutralizing work. 1,120 pounds of burned lime from calcite stone has the same neutralizing value as 2,000 pounds of crushed limestone.

So in considering three materials—burned lime, hydrated lime, and crushed limestone—we cannot speak of them in terms of one being of any more value to the soil than another, because it is all the same material, and the effectiveness of it will depend upon the amount you apply and when you apply it.

Pulverized limestone is usually the least expensive liming material in terms of cost by the ton, but it is not ready to go to work immediately when applied to the soil. You must wait for a period of months until the rain and air causes the chemical reaction which allows it to react and reduce soil acidity.

Hydrated or burned lime will go to work at once. Therefore, they are desirable materials for high value truck crops.

Dolomite limestone contains magnesium carbonate as well as calcium carbonate, and has a calcium carbonate equivalent of 110%. Dolomitic limestones are generally much more slowly soluble than the calcitic type. For that reason it is important that they be finely pulverized.

Regardless of how lime is applied, it should be worked thoroughly into the soil. It takes less lime to neutralize a sandy soil than a heavy soil well supplied with organic matter.

"How much lime should I use on my garden?" you say. There is only one way to answer correctly and that is by your bringing in a sample of the soil. We can test it and tell you how many pounds of lime to apply to make it most desirable for growing plants.

Bring your samples to the Agricultural Extension Office, Courthouse Annex.

War Veterans To Meet in Aug. in Cause of Peace

PARIS (AP) — War veterans from about a dozen nations are to gather in the Roman Catholic shrine city of Lourdes Aug. 30 in the cause of peace.

Between 50,000 and 70,000 veterans from the United States, France, Britain, West Germany, The Netherlands, Denmark, Yugoslavia, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Formosa, and perhaps Poland and Japan, are expected. A Soviet delegation is doubtful at present.

The pilgrimage was organized by the Assn. des Pretres Anciens Combattants, a French organization of 16,000 former fighting priests. The organization said it was the duty of veterans of the free world not to let the Communists monopolize such events.

Marshal Alphonse Juin, five French cardinals, three government ministers and Gen. Maxime Weygand are sponsoring the pilgrimage.

In announcing the program PAC said that in Lourdes "men of all nations, of all races, of all confessions can meet as brothers."

Similar demonstrations are planned behind the Iron Curtain, it said.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Can the space jockeys shoot down the gunslingers?

Paramount TV boss Jim Schulke thinks so. He is masterminding the film company's break into the TV filming business with a new hour show called Destination Space. It's Schulke's opinion that the next big cycle in home-screen entertainment will be space exploration.

Apparently CBS shares his faith. The network is backing the series and scheduling it Tuesday nights. The opposition: Laramie on NBC and Bronco-Sugarfoot on ABC. So Americans will have a clear-cut decision to make on whether they like their spaces wide open — or outer.

Destination Space is in good hands. The actors include John Agar and Cecil Kellaway. Director of the pilot was Joseph Pevney ("Away All Boats," "Tammy and The Bachelor," "Torpedo Run"). The coproducer and writer is Rip Van Ronkel, writer of the excellent film, "Destination Moon."

"When we did the picture," he recalled, "the events were said to be at least 25 years off. That was nine years ago, and today the seven men who will make the first flight into space have been named."

Keeping up with the latest developments is his problem, for the series is aiming at authenticity. The space agencies have helped him. "But I don't want to see any classified material," he said. "What they have in planning is more fantastic than anything I can dream."

Getting plots is the main problem, he added. "We're getting good stories, and good characters too," Van Ronkel said. "The spaceman is a new type — not the hotshot pilot at all. He's a solid engineer."
